

Tuesday evening lessons will begin next week on 6/11 and Wednesday morning lessons will begin on 7/3. As of right now, these will continue indefinitely.

About your instructor: My name's Asia! I was a collegiate ballroom dancer in school. I worked my way up with my partner from no ballroom experience to achieving one of the highest ranks and placing 1st in the majority of our dances. I've taught ballroom to people of all dance backgrounds, from those with zero experience to trained ballerinas!

I will teach 12 different ballroom dances throughout these lessons (the list of those is below). Every week I'll teach one dance on both Tuesday and Wednesday, excluding holidays. I'll move onto a different dance the following week, and the next, and so on. When I get through all 12 dances, which will take 12 weeks, I'll start from the top again and teach new beginner-friendly moves.

The classes will all be independent standalones (i.e. not cumulative). They will be friendly for both beginners and returning dancers who'd like to review/practice what they've learned. The lessons are formatted so that you don't have to worry about missing lessons and so that anyone can join in at any time!

The rate is $20 per class per person, paid A. in cash at the door or B. via Venmo/PayPal/Zelle. My online payment info can be found at the bottom of this email. If you elect to pay electronically, I ask that you pay BEFORE your lesson! This will save both you and me time at the lesson itself and allow us to jump right into dancing.

Absolutely NO dance experience is required! Feel free to come with a partner, but there is no pressure to find someone to bring. These lessons function social dance-style, i.e. you'll get to meet new people as you pair up with your fellow dancers. However, if you're not comfortable with that, that's fine too! I've taught plenty of lessons where people elect to dance on their own and there is absolutely no problem with it.

Attire: anything you feel comfortable dancing in, whether that be sweats and sneakers or your best suit/dress!

That wraps up my spiel! I'll be happy to answer any questions you may have. I look forward to meeting you!

Have a wonderful day,
Asia McGough

Dances: waltz, tango, foxtrot, Viennese waltz, cha cha, American rumba, International rumba, East Coast swing, mambo, bolero, samba, jive
